Division of Educational Affairs

As a part of WCCCD's distance learning continuous quality improvement plan, the Distance Learning Institute is currently reviewing all virtual courses to ensure that faculty have incorporated aspects of the online learning environment that have proven to lead to increased student success. These components include:

- Announcement board
- Discussion board
- Faculty information
- Course syllabus
- Weekly schedule of assignments
- Course materials
- Technical support information
- Removal of empty links and/or boards

Distance Learning

Faculty Blackboard Training

WCCCD faculty had the opportunity to participate in Blackboard training. The goal of the training was to prepare them to be able to use Blackboard to supplement their classroom teaching and learning resources.

Spring 2016 Course Development on Target!

Final preparations for publishing the Spring 2016 Schedule are underway. The new process for schedule development has engaged stakeholders across the District and strengthens the alignment of occupational course offerings, the promotion and support of new curricular initiatives, and provides opportunities to enhance campus-based programs.

Improving Instructional Delivery

The results from the Summer 2015 semester's Student Survey of Instruction are being disseminated to faculty. The intent of the survey is for the improvement of teaching and learning and is part of the District's Holistic Assessment Process. These results and other strategies will be the focus for the Annual Assessment Awareness Day chaired by our own Dr. Ella Davis.

Division of Human Resources

Human Resources: Compliance

The Division of Human Resources is currently auditing career and technical faculty files to ensure that all faculty credentials provide evidence of appropriate professional equivalency to their degrees. This process is part of our continuous quality improvement. The Division is also ensuring that faculty licenses, applications, resumes and academic relatedness forms are all current to provide evidence of tested experience appropriate to their specific teaching assignments.

Grant Updates

STEM (Science, Technology Engineering, and Mathematics) grant opportunities represent a change in strategy from research university only grants to include two year institutions. WCCCD is presently involved with two grants directly providing students with these opportunities. WCCCD's MICUP and REBUILD Detroit grants are designed to help students pursue careers within the STEM industry. The REBUID Detroit grant provides under represented students an opportunity to pursue careers in the biomedical research field up to and including pursuing a Ph.D. The MICUP grant goals are to increase the number of underrepresented minority and first-generation students in STEM and non-STEM fields.
