An Affordable Beacon of Hope for the Greater Wayne County Region

The community college is a beacon of hope - providing affordable, accessible education with boundless opportunities to help people build better futures. According to College Calc. Com., WCCCD is 15% less expensive than the national average public two-year tuition of $3,263. The District has consistently maintained affordable access while neighboring community colleges have opted to increase tuition. Truly, WCCCD is an affordable option “where learning leads to a better life.” Compared to similar institutions in the region, WCCCD is the most affordable option.

Legislative Corner

Bills to Watch...Senate Bill 98

The bill would amend the Community College Act to do the following:

- Allow a community college district board of trustees to establish education programs and grant baccalaureate degrees in ski area management, wastewater treatment technology, allied health, information technology, or manufacturing technology.
- Allow a board to establish a nursing education program that granted bachelor of science in nursing (BSN) degrees.
- Specify the requirements for the establishment and operation of a community college BSN degree program.

May Revenues Improve

Revenue to the State's General Fund and School Aid Fund totaled $1.7 billion in May 2016, the Senate Fiscal Agency said in a report released this week, a 9.5% increase from 2015. That's due to above-forecast sales tax revenue and individual income tax withholding collections, which more than offset greater-than-expected refunds under the individual income tax as well.

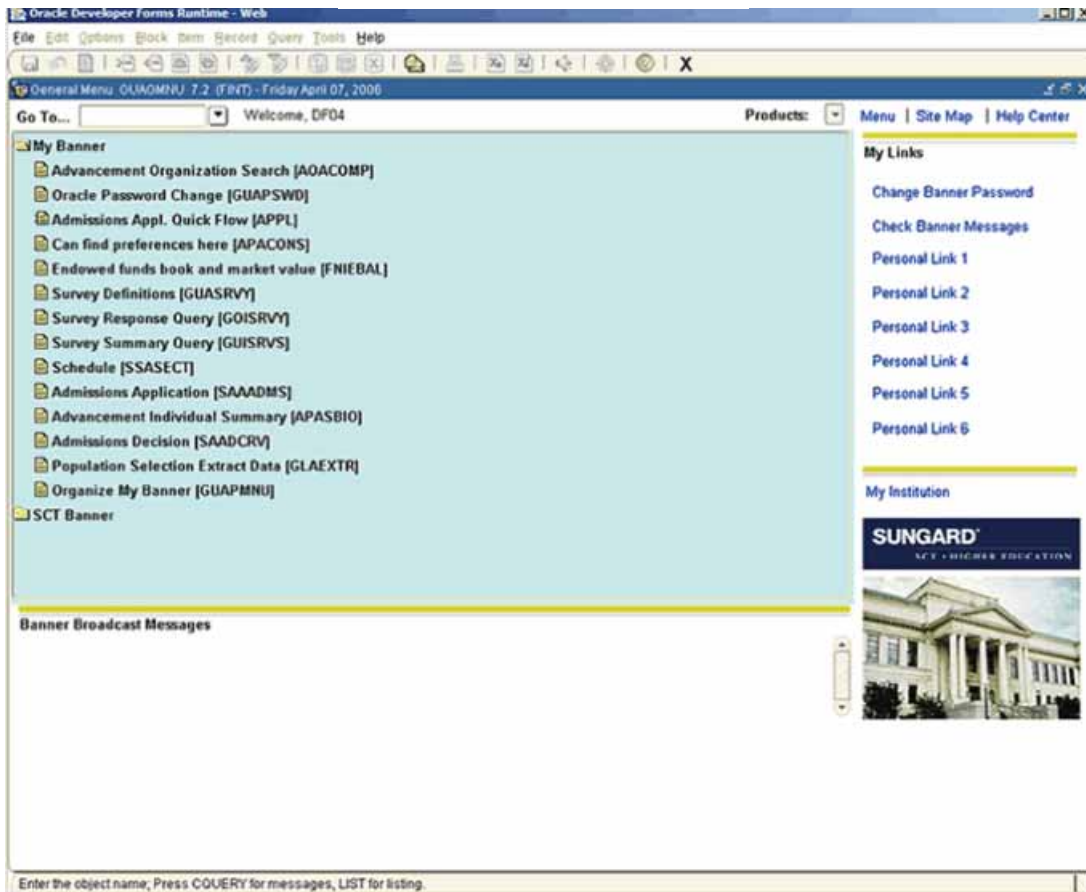

National Empowerment for the Humanities Grant Opportunity

Humanities Connections grants seek to expand the role of the humanities in the undergraduate curriculum at two- and four-year institutions, offering students in all academic fields new opportunities to develop the intellectual skills and habits of mind that the humanities cultivate.
