

2018 Honor's Convocation Downriver Campus - May 30, 2018

In The Kitchen in Beijing!

WCCCD students donned aprons to help one of China's leading television chefs, Tuo, at the College of Tourism; on the grounds of the Beijing Union University. Students help prepared an after-dinner delicacy that was once made only for the Chinese hierarches. Melissa Harris's decoration was declared the winner.

Adjunct Faculty

The Division of Educational Affairs provides many opportunities to engage all faculty, particularly our adjunct faculty who instruct at each of our campus locations. April McCray, Associate Vice Chancellor looks forward to continuously engaging those faculty in professional development webinars and workshops on topics including:

- ✓ Effective Strategies for Teaching and Learning
- ✓ Opportunities to Remain Engaged in the District
- ✓ Key Elements of the Course Syllabi

The Course Syllabi is an important tool that is used to ensure students are informed and knowledgeable of the overall course delivery, logistics, instructor expectations, instructional objectives, expected student outcomes and competencies. District-wide, faculty, campus administration and District academic deans and provosts each review all course syllabi utilized each term to ensure these expectations are being met.

WCCCD Interns and Federal Work Study Students

WCCCD provides opportunities for students to be interns. This gives them the opportunity to work as they complete their degree. It is our goal to help students become competitive in the educational realm and work field. We also have Summer Federal Work Study (FWS) and it is our job to place them for work. Omolade Ajayi-Tubor has been training to assist students.

WCCCD Giving Back to the Community

In continuation of community partnership efforts, the Eastern Campus donated more than 200 lunches to homeless and shelter bond citizens at the Rescue Mission Ministries Genesis III, Detroit Rescue Mission and, Neighborhood Service Organization Tumaini Center.

Professional Closet

Dr. Randal Miller made a donation to the Professional Closet on behalf of his wife, Susan who retired recently as a banker. The District has made donated clothing available to students on an as-needed basis. In recent years, this program has grown from a small collection of used clothing into a well-stocked clothing closet located on three campuses.

In the Mail...

We received this letter that I thought I would share with you:

"True Story- After leaving high school in 1993, in 2008 (15 years later) I finally mustered up enough courage to go enroll at WCCCD. After the admissions department reviewed my history, they wisely recommended a skilled trade ie: automotive, HVAC, etc.

I didn't have a clue, never really dealt with computers and thought you had to play sports or be rich to go to college. All I knew was that I wanted to be an attorney! But it was Mel Allen at the Downtown Campus that called me in his office and helped with my financial aid and also to pick out my courses that first semester.

WCCCD has some good professors, that helped to lay the foundation for my BA at University of Detroit Mercy and my law degree!"

~Edward Martell

Another letter I thought I'd share about our exceptional customer service:

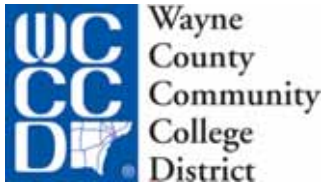

"Hi Jennifer,

I just wanted to take a moment to say thank you for offering us the use of the WCCCD Northwest Campus on May 9, 2018. The Larry K. Lewis Education Center was perfect for our needs and our attendees. In addition to the wonderful facility, I appreciate the wonderful support that you, Carlton and everyone at WCCCD provided. You all played a huge role in making the day a big success.

Thank you again, and I wish you a fantastic summer."
