BOTTLED GOODBYES
with Ric Moxter

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 2022
7:00 p.m.
Downriver Campus
21000 Northline Rd., Taylor, MI 48180

Bottled Goodbyes has been discussed in their weekly or bi-weekly sessions. They bring tidbits from cover songs, tributes to pop, funk, jazz, blues, and country favorites from the past.

Based on Ric Moxter's new book, Bottled Goodbyes chronicles the social history, management, and movement, including their behind-the-scenes story of their band. One of their members was played by a White House aide who served two U.S. presidents.

TRiO Alumni Spotlights Sharon Gregory!

TRiO Works! TRiO Rocks!

“While attending Wayne County Community College District (WCCCD), I earned an Associate's degree and graduated in 2014. Upon entering WCCCD, I recall hearing about the TRiO program. I remember being hesitant due to an already overwhelming feeling of being older, not to mention the fallacy of knowledge retention towards people of age. Once introduced to TRiO, under the amazing lead of Yolanda Russell, it changed the trajectory of my career choice, as well as directed in the furtherance of my academics at WCCCD.

The warmth and welcoming smile and spirit of Mrs. Russell and her team motivated me not only to join, but relinquished anything preventing me from moving forward. The impact that resulted from one-on-one mentoring, motivation, encouragement and hard work on my part, brought about an outcome that was nothing short of life-changing. I went full throttle, becoming totally engaged in every activity and event that not only helped me, but assisted in helping me help others. To date, I still keep contact with Mrs. Russell, including involvement in any way, towards the assistance and support of the TRiO program and its events.

Bottom line- for anyone interested and eligible- TRiO works! It impacted me. It impacted my life. Because of the TRiO program, I went on to transfer into a four-year university to complete a Baccalaureate Degree. I'll end with three words that describe TRiO: Beneficial. Impactful. Life-changing.”

Our Diverse Student Population

Ruth Berry, a member of the WCCCD International Council, spoke to students about the flag that represents their country that hangs at the Curtis L. Ivery Downtown Campus.

My name is Abdulla Al Maruf. I am from Bangladesh. I moved to the United States from Bangladesh six years ago with my family. I will finish my Associate's Degree in Science at WCCCD this year. I intend to transfer to a four-year institution. WCCCD provided a lot of support throughout the transfer process and also assisted me in applying for different scholarships, understanding degree works and other difficulties. The WCCCD TRiO program and the advisors were both very helpful to me and helped me in accomplishing my academic and career goals. My educational goal is to obtain a Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science at Wayne State University. I plan to have a career as a Software Developer.
